

AVT Connect Factsheet - Patient Education Websites

Patient Education Websites

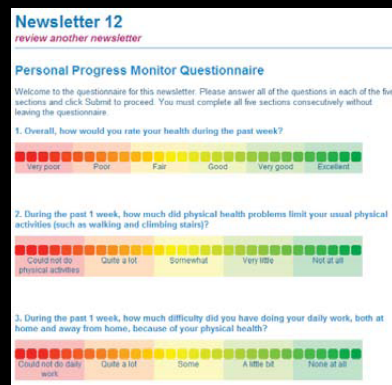

Our patient education websites help improve compliance and empowerment among patients taking a course of drugs. The websites are highly patient focused and aimed at helping patients through their first year of a drug treatment.

The site automatically delivers new content to registered users through an online newsletter system and sets users goals to achieve between each newsletter release.

This method allows information to be tailored to how long patients have been taking the drug.

A monthly online questionnaire also takes detailed information on their health and produces valuable reports for both the user and their physician.

Another site feature is a personal diary which allows users to store appointments and reminders online making the site an even more valuable tool for them.

Online Information Resource

Offer your site visitors a wealth of information about the drug and create a valuable online resource for patients and healthcare professionals alike. Information may include:

- What the drug is
- When to take it
- Therapeutic results
- Side effects

Guided Patient Education

Monthly newsletters

Support patients by educating them about their condition, their drug treatment and the benefits of continuing with their treatment by providing them with targeted time-specific information.

Patient health questionnaire

Allow patients to track their improved health and create visually interesting reports to demonstrate their progress. Encourage interaction between the patient and their healthcare professional by sharing the questionnaire reports.

Personal trainer

Set patients specific goals to achieve and motivate them to make best use of the information and support available.

Patient diary

Help your patients keep track of their medical appointments and provide email reminders to notify them about upcoming events.

Community support

Patients can share experiences and offer each other support using discussion boards, uploading video diaries and by contributing to an advice centre.

Physician and Patient Interaction

My patients

Allow physicians to track the progress of all their patients registered with the site by accessing their results and contacting them if necessary.

Tools and resources

Provide your physicians with expert tools and resources to assist their treatment.

Expert exchange

Create a platform for healthcare professionals to share information and experiences relating to the drug.
